January 4 & 5, 2015 at The Riviera, Las Vegas, NV

AN ENTERTAINMENT STORAGE ALLIANCE™ EVENT

Tracey Doyle, Director Solutions and Cloud Program Management, Hitachi Data Systems

TITLE

The Clouds are here! Now the real challenges have arrived....

ABSTRACT

Many organizations, large and small are building a private cloud, while others use public cloud options for less critical applications and data, and potentially lower cost.

More often than not, solutions are being architected for hybrid or public clouds that can provide the flexibility to locate data where it makes sense, making data mobile and therefore accessible wherever and whenever needed. This session will discuss the current and future challenges and longer term vision for ensuring faster time-to-market and ability to better react to the changing needs of customers.
